Golden Throne to be assembled at Palace on Oct. 1

Mysuru, Sept. 24 (MTY&AK)- With 13 days left for the formal inauguration of Naada Habba Dasara atop Chamundi Hill on Oct. 7, preparations are on at the Mysore Palace to celebrate Navarathri rituals in a traditional manner.

The Golden Throne will be assembled on Oct. 1 at an auspicious timing in the Durbar Hall of the Mysore Palace.

The Private Durbar (Khaas Durbar) by the royal family of Mysore during Dasara celebrations is one of the main attractions and the same will be held from Oct. 7.

According to the Palace almanac (Panchanga), on the auspicious Abhijin Lagna, the dismantled parts of the gem-studded throne will be brought out from the strong room situated in the basement of the Palace and then start the process of assembling it in the Durbar Hall on Oct.1.

Badrasana (Made with silver) and Simhasana (Made with gold) will be assembled. After one month, on Nov. 1, The Golden Throne will be dismantled and kept in the strong room.

Tourist entry restricted?

As the pandemic continues, tourist entry inside the Palace to view the Golden Throne is likely to be restricted. A final decision in this regard will be taken soon. If the entry for tourists is allowed, Rs. 50 will be charged per person to view the throne.

On Oct. 7, the first day of Navarathri, traditional rituals will take place and the 'Simha Shikara' will be attached to the Golden Throne.

In view of this ceremony, a special Chamundeshwari puja and Ganapathi homa will be performed in the Palace premises. This will be followed by Poornahuthi and all these will take place before Private Durbar begins.

Like every year, all the CCTV cameras installed inside the Palace will be covered with cloth to keep the entire activity as a closely guarded secret.

After assembling of the throne, the curtains will be put at the Durbar Hall to keep it away from the sight of people.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

MIGHT AND MANE: It's a bald truth. Receding hairlines have gone into free fall. A recent NYT report noticed that post-WFH, offices are filled with the hair apparent. This suggests that the long months of the lockdown were used by the follically challenged to refurbish their thinning locks. MPB, male pattern baldness, was far more traumatising than the more regular PMS, pre-menstrual syndrome. Now the last bastion has been breached. If balding was the ultimate mocker of masculinity, the stigma against circumventing it was an equally muscular deterrent. However, male vanity triumphed. It always does, na?

A US 'hair restoration surgeon' saw a 30% surge in transplants and a 50% increase in consultations during the pandemic. These are a great advance on the toupe, long-time grist to gags, and subject of conjecture vis-a-vis the Big B. Certainly less pathetic than the comb-over, were the 'plugs', resorted to even by President Biden during his 2008 bid. This time, he did not give in to the fully recarpeted scalp; though, he did 'turn back time with a hair transplant to portray a more youthful appearance'. Only Britain's BoJo can compete with the Trump Thatch. Chill, guys, there really is no reason to think that your appeal recedes along with your hairline. There will be the likes of Medusa-locked Lasith Malinga and our own Neeraj Chopra, who mopped the floor with the competition. But baldness is equally sexy, as Yul Brynner first proved in Hollywood. Similarly, several world leaders from Lenin, Gandhi and Churchill to Putin and his predecessors have nixed the Samson Syndrome where shorn locks did ditto to power. — Bachi Karkaria in The Times of India

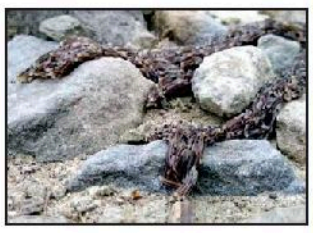
Cupping makes user look like Super Mario character

Jakarta: Modern cupping is usually associated with glass cups, but the practice can be traced back to the year 1500 B.C., when glass didn't even exist. Back then, healers used hollowed-out animal horns to create suction and some street therapists still rely on buffalo horns to practice their trade.

People who turn to street therapists for cupping in Jakarta, Indonesia, usually suffer from suffering from dizziness, flu and pain in their joints, but the medical effects have never been scientifically proven. Sure there are many who swear by it, including famous athletes and celebrities, but as far as medical evidence goes, the jury is still out. But no one can argue with the fact that cattle horn cupping makes you look like Bowser, from the Super Mario video games. "There are therapists in other places who use glass or bamboo cups for suction. But here in Jakarta we use buffalo horns since thousands of years as there is no risk involved and the warmth improves blood circulation in the body," street therapist Awin Saksena proudly said.

When thousands of larvae move as one giant unit



Warsaw: The larvae of a certain species of gnats have been known to migrate by assembling into a large snake-like shape numbering tens of thousands of individuals and crawling on the ground as one. The bizarre phenomenon is known as "Pleń" in Poland and "Heerwurm" in Germany.

Called Pleń by the Polish people who first documented the rare and poorly understood phenomenon, this method of migration numbers between a few thousand to several tens of thousands of tiny larvae. They crawl on the ground as one unit, towards an unknown goal that scientists have so far only speculated on.

Pathetic condition of city roads

Apathy of MCC authorities and elected reps

Sir,

For the past few weeks I have seen a number of letters in this column about the pathetic conditions of roads in most parts of the city including my letter "Make Mysuru city roads free of pits and potholes before Dasara" (Star of Mysore dated Sept. 6). But it seems that the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) authorities have turned a blind eye to these complaints.

Even the local Corporators, MLAs and MP are keeping quiet. Are the officials and the people's reps not commuting and experiencing the hardships via these roads like any other motorist? Are they so insensitive or apathetic to the voice raised by the people who elected them? This shows their callous attitude.

Recently I heard that a motorist fell down while commuting on the road opposite to Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering because of the bad condition of the road.

Is it not the responsibility of the concerned authorities and local politicians to make these roads motorable?

I sincerely appeal to the authorities and also elected people's representatives to address this issue with top priority.

Hotel Owners Association condemns assault on hotelier by Police Inspector

Mysuru, Sept. 24 (RK&KS)- Mysuru Hotel Owners Association President C. Narayanagowda and Association office-bearers have condemned the assault on a restaurant owner by Mandi Police Station Inspector for keeping the hotel open beyond 9 pm.

The Association has complained that Mandi Inspector Raghu and staff, barged into Big Grill Hotel on New Sayyaji Rao Road in Bamboo Bazar at about 10 pm on Wednesday and assaulted hotel owner Javeed Ahmed Khan. Narayanagowda said that following COVID pandemic, the Government has imposed Night Curfew, which is being strictly followed by all hotels and added that in case of violations by hotels, the Police could have issued a notice and could have even collected fine. But, how right it is for the Police to assault the hotel owner, he questioned.

Pointing out that the hotel industry was reeling under severe loss due to the pandemic and is now on the verge of recovery, he said that such incidents by the Police would put us down. "Despite severe hardships due to pandemic, we are paying our tax which is fetching revenue to the Government. We have been helping during disasters and natural calamities and working hard for the development of tourism sector by providing hospitality to tourists and guests visiting the city. This type of harassment to hotel owners is like rubbing salt on the wound," Narayanagowda said.

The members of Mysuru Hotel Owners Association led by their President C. Narayanagowda seen after submitting the complaint to City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta at the latter's Office yesterday.

> It is our responsibility to implement the Night Curfew order imposed by the Government. Though we have been instructing hotels and shop to close by 9 pm, a few were not responding to it, which could lead to deterioration in law and order situation. In this background, we went to the hotel and inspected the place. There is a limit for our patience too. Everyone should follow the Government order.
> —Raghu, Inspector, Mandi Police Station

Association members, who met Hotel owner Javeed, collected information from him, instilled confidence and told him that they had met the City Police Commissioner and submitted a complaint. The CCTV footage of the Police Inspector assaulting hotel owner Javeed has gone viral on social media.

Hotel owner Javeed said that the staff had downed the shutters at 9 pm, but a couple was still having dinner. He accused the Police of abusing and assaulting him after barging inside the hotel.

Hotel Owners Association office-bearers Ravi Shastri, Kiran Tantri, Prabhakar and others were in the delegation that met the City Top Cop.

Bharath Bandh on Sept. 27: Farmer and Labour Unions appeal for support

Mysuru, Sept. 24 (RKB&DM)- Strongly opposing the Centre's anti-farmer and anti-poor policies, farmer, labour and Dalit organisations have appealed the citizens to support the Bharath Bandh called by various Associations and Unions on Sept. 27.

Addressing a press meet here recently, Samyukta Horata Samithi's P. Mallesh alleged that the Union Government was pursuing policies that are detrimental to the interests of the farmers, the poor and dalits.

Pointing out that the Centre was unresponsive to the months long mass agitation of farmers who are opposing the three newly introduced farm bills, Mallesh said that the Bharath Bandh called by various Organisations is aimed at attracting the attention of the Centre to the plight of farming and working classes, who are deeply distressed by the faulty policies of the Centre.

Opposing the introduction of the National Education Policy (NEP), which he said was a move aimed at commercialisation of education, he urged the Government to stall the move in the better interests of the student community.

Contending that the Sept. 27 Bharath Bandh will be a decisive battle against the Centre's anti-people policies, he reiterated his appeal to all Organisations of different sectors for extending their full support to the Bandh.

Swaraj India's Ugra Narasimhe Gowda, Hoskote Basavaraj, P.S. Sandhya, G.S. Seema, Jagadish Surya and Balaji Rao, representing various organisations were present at the press meet.

Glory of Nature and God

[Published on 20.5.1978]

This is spring. The queen of seasons. God is busy painting the nature — look around and treat your eyes to the glory of nature and God. Flowers, flowers and more flowers — red, yellow, pink, violet — of all colours and shades.

Oh Mysore, Oh Mysore, how I love thee, with all thy faults! May heaven's choicest blessings be upon those who planted these flowering trees in our parks, gardens and the avenues. It is mirth indeed to see the whole promenade ablaze with flaming Gulmohar or the roads strewn with a thin carpet of yellow dropping of Laburnum petals.

I am a lover of nature and spring is the season when nature expresses herself fully and hides no secrets. I go ecstatic seeing nature in full bloom. I know not the names of these trees or plants. But then between lovers, name is neither relevant nor has any meaning. Beautiful things are happening around me and I simply devour the beauty and feel great joy at the thought that I am here, alive and aware, to partake this great glory of nature.

This is spring and I can see. I am sorry for those who are blind and can't see and also for those of my readers who have so far remained blind to nature. Please open your eyes and let nature enter your soul. You are already that which you are seeking to become. Only you have been seeking with your eyes closed. — PUCK

Writing one's memoir

[Published on 25.5.1978]

It is but natural one must look back at the end of the road, look down on reaching the peak, reminiscence after retirement. It is like a tiger going back to its kill (and of course, that's when the Police catch the murderer too). So also this business, lucrative business, of writing one's memoirs.

This world is replete with vain, boastful people and their number is legion among politicians. I understand that even a small fry's life is eventful. When such is the case what about a big fry? That too of a political big-wig?

Among the ordinary humans who made it big is our Nirad Chowdhury who wrote "An Autobiography of an Unknown Indian." In a way we can say Nirad Da too had career when he wrote it. Only when the book became a success his career got a new lease.

Among the younger breed, it is Dom Moraes, who had the temerity to write an autobiography even when his career was making a nascent beginning. He wrote that self-revealing, self-effacing autobiography "My Son's Father." To me personally "My Son's Father" made an absorbing bed-time reading rather than that loaded book of Nirad Da.

The life of a politician is a life of destiny. And there seems to be something supernatural about the writing of an autobiography by a politician. Why do I say this? Not to glean from the pages of world history. Nearer home we have the classic instance of our present Prime Minister Mr. Morarji Desai, who after losing the battle for the PM's post to Mrs. Gandhi and later unceremoniously flung out of her Cabinet and thereafter having nothing better to do, started 'doing' an autobiography. It was a dull book to read — language-wise and content-wise. But then, who on earth knew that the last chapter of the book was yet to be written? That's destiny?

So now it is Indira Gandhi's turn. Like in the case of Morarji Desai, the inscrutable destiny may still have a surprise pack for her. —PUCK

Shaping the course of history

[Published on 27.5.1978]

Many years ago while studying for my BA, I participated in an essay competition entitled "Individuals and Courses of History." Modesty prevents me from naming the winner. But what is important is not the winning but the new light that was thrown on my hitherto uncovered area of understanding History in its proper perspective.

I discovered that all through the ages the destiny of mankind was shaped by individuals who could, by sheer power of their personality, guide or misguide the people. There are many minor 'individuals' who like our present day Ministers, played a limited role. But it was given only to a few to shape the course of history and leave a lasting imprint of their work and genius. Majority of them in the world belong, per force, to the field of politics.

Mahavir, Buddha, Jesus, Julius Caesar, Augustus Caesar, Socrates, Washington, Abraham Lincoln. Napoleon, Shankara, Hitler, Marx, Lenin, Gandhi, Einstein and an array of illustrious men of this planet earth helped at one stage or the other to change and shape the course of human history (I add Englishmen to this as a special case).

In India too individuals have contributed to shape its past and present course. Let us forget the past and think of the immediate past and the present. Gandhi has, of course, the pride of place. The Nehru and if my readers do not grudge, Indira Gandhi. In my opinion J.P. despite his labour and contribution cannot occupy this special place in history. That's why, I feel, the mock title given to her by our well-known cartoonist R.K. Laxman, "Queen Empress of India," may even prove to be prophetic. —PUCK

LS Speaker Om Birla arrives

"We requested the Assembly Speaker not to hold such a Joint Session of the Legislature in the Assembly and we urged him to hold the programme at the Banquet Hall in the Vidhana Soudha. But the Speaker turned down the suggestion," Shivakumar told the presspersons.

Noting that only the Governor and the President were eligible to address both Houses of the Legislature, Shivakumar said Birla's speech was "unwarranted." He further said that the Legislative Assembly "cannot be used for political purpose."

He said that the State Government and the State Legislature were creating a bad precedent by inviting the Lok Sabha Speaker to the Legislative Assembly to deliver a speech.

Shivakumar also condemned Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri's decision to invite Birla and said it was "against the spirit of the Constitution and rules of our Democracy."

Protest against rising prices

Congress leaders arrive at Vidhana Soudha in tongas

Bengaluru, Sept. 24 (UNI)- Stepping up their protest against the rising prices of fuel and essential commodities, Congress leaders, including Leader of Opposition in the Karnataka Assembly Siddharamaiah and the party's State President D.K. Shivakumar, arrived at the Vidhana Soudha in a tonga today.

Siddharamaiah accused the BJP-led Union Government of "failing" to tackle the rising prices of fuel and essential commodities. "We will continue our protest against the State and Centre on the issue, both inside and outside the Assembly," he said.

The protest is part of the Congress' ongoing campaign to pressure the Basavaraj Bommai-led Karnataka Government to reduce the taxes on petrol and diesel, and other essential commodities that have added to the burden of the State's population who are severely impacted due to the COVID-19 pandemic-induced lockdowns.

"People are frustrated with the steep increase in petrol and other essential commodity prices, and waiting for this Government to end the term. People fear about cases being slapped on them if they voice their frustration against the Government. People will teach BJP a good lesson in the upcoming elections and will send their leaders back home," the former Chief Minister said.

D.K. Shivakumar said that the increase of prices of energy and other essential commodities was the doing of the BJP which was "pickpocketing" the State's population.

Poona Pact will remain as a landmark agreement: VC

Mysuru, Sept. 24 (RKB& DM)- Maintaining that Dr. B. R. Ambedkar always strived for liberating the oppressed classes from societal shackles, University of Mysore (UoM) Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar observed that the Poona Pact signed between Dr. Ambedkar and Mahatma Gandhi will remain as an important landmark in Indian political history.

He was speaking after inaugurating an interactive-session on 'Poona Pact and the Aftermath,' organised by Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Research and Extension Centre, marking the 89th anniversary of the signing of the Pact, at the new Vishwajnani auditorium at Manasagangothri here this morning.

He pointed out that the Poona Pact inked between Dr. B. R. Ambedkar and Mahatma Gandhi on Sept. 24,1932, was an agreement reached between the two great leaders on behalf of depressed classes and upper caste Hindu leaders on the reservation of electoral seats for depressed classes in the Legislature of British India Government.

Noting that the Pact signified a solution derived by the amalgamation of two different ideologies (Dr. Ambedkar: Political approach and Gandhi: Social approach), he said that the two icons of the Indian freedom struggle strived for achieving a common goal for upliftment of one of the most vulnerable sections of the society. He further said that the Pact also granted new rights to oppressed sections of the society (then labelled as untouchables).

WORD OF THE DAY

Vignette

Pronunciation: vin-YET.
Meaning: A vignette is a short written description or a brief scene in a movie or play.
Origin: Vignette comes from the Middle French noun vigne, meaning "vine." In English, the word was first used in the early 17th century for a design or illustration that ran along the blank border of a page, or one that marked the beginning or end of a chapter. Such designs got their name because they often looked like little vines. It wasn't until the late 19th century that vignette began being used for a brief literary sketch or narrative.
Example: "Additional pregame and in-game presentations will feature tributes and vignettes honoring [Phil] Niekro as one of baseball's greatest knuckleball pitchers." — The Albany (Georgia) Herald, 9 Aug. 2021.

THE ODD WORD

Vagarian

Whimsical person.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Wine and Dine

Meaning: To indicate that someone is being treated lavishly; to treat somebody (usually a woman) to wine and dinner; take someone out to dinner at a luxury restaurant; to have a scrumptious meal; to provide a lavish meal including meal and drink.
Origin: The origin of the term 'wine and dine' isn't known; the phrase is a contemporary one that first appeared during the 20th century.
In medieval England, food that was served with wine would be considered lavish and that is where the phrase is speculated to have originated from.
Example: "Our company likes to wine and dine its clients." The wine and dine at this hotel is among the best that you will ever find.
